ISRAEL WIDENS GROUND OFFENSIVE

Thousands loot Gaza UN aid warehouses as toll tops 8,000

ASSOCIATED PRESS
Deir Al-Balah, Gaza Strip, October 29

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE broke into aid warehouses in Gaza to take flour and basic hygiene products, a United Nations (UN) agency said on Sunday, in a mark of growing desperation and the breakdown of public order three weeks into the war between Israel and Gaza's militant Hamas rulers.

(Left to right) Supporters of Jama'at-Islami take part in a rally against the Israeli airstrikes on Gaza and to show solidarity with Palestinian people, in Islamabad, Pakistan on Sunday; Smoke rises following an Israeli bombardment in the Gaza Strip, as seen from southern Israel on Sunday.

Tanks and infantry pushed into Gaza over the weekend and Israeli prime minister Benjamin Netanyahu announced a "second stage" in the war, which was ignited by Hamas' brutal October 7 incursion into Israel.

Israel also pounded the territory from air, land and sea. Gaza's health ministry said the death toll among Palestinians has passed 8,000—mostly women and minors. It is a toll without precedent in the history of Israel-Palestinian violence, and it is expected to climb even more rapidly as Israel presses its ground offensive.

Over 1,400 people have died on the Israeli side, mainly civilians killed during the initial Hamas onslaught. Communications were restored to most of Gaza early Sunday after a bombardment described by Gaza residents as the most intense of the war knocked out most contact with the territory late Friday. The besieged enclave's 2.3 million people were largely cut off from the world.

The Israeli military on Sunday said that it had struck over 450 militant targets over the past 24 hours, including Hamas command centers and anti-tank missile launching positions. It said more ground forces were sent into Gaza overnight, and officials circulated footage showing tanks and troops operating in open areas.

Road to Xi-Biden summit not to be smooth: China

CHINA'S FOREIGN MINISTER Wang Yi said that the road to the San Francisco summit will not be a smooth one, the foreign ministry said on Sunday, in a reference to an expected meeting between Chinese President Xi Jinping and US President Joe Biden.

Wang met Biden and his top aides in Washington in recent days, agreeing to work together toward the expected bilateral meeting on the sidelines of the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation forum summit.

months, largely at US request, has aimed at salvaging what were rapidly deteriorating ties early in the year following the US downing of an alleged Chinese spy balloon.

His remarks on Saturday, Wang cautioned the road to the summit would not be a smooth one and travelling there would not be an "autopilot," the ministry said in a statement.

He was speaking after a discussion with members of the US strategic community in Washington, the ministry said.

Netanyahu swipes at intel chiefs over Hamas attack, then apologises

ISRAELI PRIME MINISTER Benjamin Netanyahu on Sunday took a jab at his intelligence chiefs on the X platform, saying they never warned him Hamas was planning its attack on October 7, but retracted and apologized.

The remarks, posted on X at 1 am on Sunday, caused a political uproar and a rift within the war cabinet of Netanyahu, who has drawn public fire for not taking responsibility for intelligence and operational failures relating to Hamas' rampage through Israel.

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu

post had said: "At no time and in no way did I ever blame the head of my intelligence and head of the Shin Bet, estimated that Hamas was deterred and interested in an arrangement."

In a second post on X about 10 hours later, Netanyahu wrote: "I was wrong," adding that his remarks "should not have been made and I apologize for that."

Netanyahu's initial comments were promptly rebuked by current and past allies, including Benny Gantz, a former defense minister who is now in Netanyahu's war cabinet.

Mideast must consider 2-state solution: Biden

ASSOCIATED PRESS
Washington, October 29

AS THE THREE-WEEK-OLD Israel-Hamas war enters what Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu says could be a "long and difficult" new stage, US President Joe Biden is calling on Israeli and Arab leaders to think hard and act on their eventual post-war reality.

US President Joe Biden

It's one, he argues, where finally finding agreement on a long-sought two-state solution to the Israel-Palestinian conflict should be a priority.

"There's nothing back to the status quo as stood on October 6," Biden told reporters, referring to the day before Hamas militants attacked Israel and set off the latest war.

The White House says Biden conveyed the same message directly to Netanyahu during a telephone call this past week. "It also means that when this crisis is over, there has to be a vision of what comes next, and in our view that's a two-state solution," Biden said.

The push for a two-state solution—one in which Israel would co-exist with an independent Palestinian state—has eluded US presidents and Middle East diplomats for decades. It has been up on the back burner since the last American-led effort at peace talks collapsed in 2014 amid disagreements on Israeli settlements, the release of Palestinian prisoners and other issues.

Palestinian statehood is something that Biden rarely addressed in the early going of his administration.

During his visit to the West Bank last year, Biden said the "ground is not ripe" for new attempts to reach a permanent peace even as he reiterated to Palestinian statehood.

moment of heightened concern that the Israel-Hamas war could spiral into a broader regional conflict, Biden has begun to emphasize that once the bombing and shooting stop, working toward a Palestinian state should no longer be ignored.

Until recently, Biden had put far more emphasis on what his administration saw as the achievable ambition of normalizing relations between Israel and its Arab neighbours than restoring peace talks.

Even his national security adviser, Jake Sullivan, in a lengthy essay that was written shortly before the October 7 attack and described Biden's global foreign policy efforts made no mention of Palestinian statehood.

In an updated version of the foreign affairs essay posted online, Sullivan wrote that the administration was "committed to a two-state solution."

White House officials also say the normalization talks have always included significant proposals to benefit the Palestinians.

There is no shortage of obstacles in the way of Biden's postwar vision. An independent Palestinian state in the West Bank and Gaza is viewed as a nonstarter by Israel's far-right government.

Israel's economy set to shrink 11%: JPMorgan

ISRAEL'S ECONOMY MAY shrink 11% on an annualized basis in the next three months of the year, JPMorgan Chase & Co. said, as the country's war with Hamas escalates.

The bank's initial projections about the economic impact of the conflict, which erupted on October 7 when Hamas militants rampaged through southern Israel, were "too optimistic," analysts including Nicolaie Alexandru-Chidescu wrote in note dated Oct 27.

It was published roughly 24 hours before Israel began a widely-expected ground invasion of Gaza, which Hamas rules, and Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu warned of a "long and difficult" campaign.

The lender's estimates are among the most pessimistic from Wall Street analysts so far. Investors, though, have already sold Israeli assets heavily. The Tel Aviv stock index in Tel Aviv is down 11% in local currency terms since October 7, while the shekel has slumped to its weakest since 2012.

Israel's recent conflicts—including one with Hamas in 2014 that lasted around seven weeks and included a ground assault on the territory, and a 2006 war with Lebanon—have had a "broadly affected" impact, they said. But "the current war has had a much larger impact on domestic security and confidence."

The death toll is already much higher than those examples. Hamas, designated a terrorist organization by the US and others, killed around 1,400 Israelis with its incursion this month, the government said.

China's Evergrande faces make-or-break moment in winding-up hearing

CHINA'S EVERGRANDE GROUP faces a make-or-break moment Monday at a court hearing, where the troubled developer must defend itself against creditor requests for liquidation.

The much-awaited case in Hong Kong's High Court follows a years-long saga that has embodied the rise and fall of China's real estate industry. If a wind-up order is delivered, Evergrande, with about $327 billion of liabilities, could be the biggest-ever liquidation on face such a fate under Hong Kong law.

That's no longer just a hypothetical risk.

A group of creditors that had previously supported the firm's restructuring plan is now wavering.

The so-called ad-hoc bloc has to decide whether it will speak against the winding-up request despite having done so previously.
